Bubble Thoughts: Legal Rights, Terms, and Policies

Title: Bubble Thoughts – Legal Rights, User Policy, and Terms of Use

1. Definitions

- Team: Refers to Bubble Thoughts Team, responsible for maintaining and managing the website and services.
- Author: Any person posting thoughts or content on the platform.
- Platform/Website: Refers to www.bubblethoughts.in and associated services.

2. Intellectual Property Rights

1. All software, code, design, and content developed and maintained by the Team are owned exclusively by the Team.
2. Authors retain rights over thoughts marked with © (Only Me) but grant the Team permission to use, reproduce, modify, or display posts for:
 1. Platform promotion, marketing, and business purposes
 2. Analytics, improvements, or product features
3. No third party may reproduce, sell, distribute, or use any content or data from the platform for personal, commercial, or business purposes without explicit permission from the Team or the Author.

3. User Rights

- Authors may use their thoughts (even public ones) for personal or commercial purposes externally, provided they adhere to the platform's policies.
- © Tag ("Only Me") indicates that the Author restricts external usage. This does not permit other users or third parties to exploit the content.

4. Reporting and Content Moderation

- Any post reported 15 or more times is subject to review by the Team.
- The Team reserves the right to remove posts that violate social norms, are misleading, harassing, or antisocial in nature.
- This policy ensures community integrity and the safety of users.

5. Encryption & Privacy

- Messages in the Connect chat feature are automatically encrypted 24 hours after sending.
- This ensures the confidentiality and protection of personal communication on the platform.

6. Limitation of Liability

- The Team is not liable for any misuse of content by third parties outside the platform.
- Users should avoid posting confidential or sensitive information that could cause harm if exposed.

7. Compliance with Indian Law

- All platform policies comply with applicable laws under Indian jurisdiction, including the Information Technology Act, 2000.
- Users and Authors are responsible for ensuring their content does not violate Indian law, including provisions against harassment, obscenity, or defamatory content.

8. Consent & Acceptance

- By using the platform, users accept these terms and agree to abide by community guidelines, copyright, reporting, and encryption policies.
- The Team may update these terms periodically; continued use implies acceptance of updates.
